Radhye Hospital Yeola

Yeola Dist Nasik, Maharashtra
India

Radhye Hospital is one of leading hospitals located in the city of Yeola In the district of Nashik Maharashtra. Radhye Hospitals is one of the leading maternity hospitals situated in this area. The hospitals is backed with all the latest facilities and medical equipment that enables then to provide one of the best hospital services in this area. The hospital consist of team of qualifies doctors backed by years of experience that enables them to impart high quality medical services to all their patients. If your baby is premature, or unwell after she is born, she might need special medical care. To handle such situations, Radhye hospital can be your choice. The maternity hospital has a neonatal intensive care unit (NICU) for various emergency needs. The NICU has all the necessary medical equipment like incubators, feeding tubes, photo therapy lights, respiratory monitors, and cardiac monitors, along with well-trained staff to care for very small or ill babies.

Services offered that the Radhye Hospitals Prenatal care Postnatal care Normal and Caesarean deliveries across three customer wards: general ward, semi-private, and private wards Family planning services Immunizations Pediatric consultations Diagnostic services Pharmacy Health care education to surrounding communities

Visit Website
Contact Us
Email Friend